YOUNG STORYTELLER OF THE YEAR 2010

This exciting day will begin at 10.30 with a story from our patron and judge, the famous storyteller Hugh Lupton.

Hugh is no stranger to prizes himself, having won, with Daniel Morden, the Classical Association prize for his telling of Greek Myths. His song 'One in a Million', sung by Chris Wood, won the title 'Best Original Song' in the BBC Folk Awards 2006.

Hugh wrote: "I'm looking forward very much to Young Storyteller of the Year."

HUGH LUPTON

June Peters, our other judge, will begin the afternoon's stories. June has toured four times to South America and her advice on staging and shaping stories is greatly sought-after by other professionals.

She says: "There's always a wonderful buzz around the Young Storytellers' competition. It's full of energy and joy that is infectious."

JUNE PETERS

In the morning we will hear solo storytellers and groups between 15 and 18 years old from the Young Tongues Projects in Birmingham, Wales, Cambridge, Surrey, Shropshire and Telford & Wrekin. The afternoon will feature individual storytellers from around the UK ranging in age from 15 to 25. Check our website for information about the venue (and directions to it), the rules, the prizes, an outline of the day and more.

What will Hugh and June will be looking for? Confidence on stage, an ability to connect with the audience and a real love of the story. Have you found the perfect story to make you a winner?

GOOD LUCK!

YOUNG STORYTELLER OF THE YEAR 2010 THE INTERNATIONAL DIMENSION

Entrants in this year's event, together with all other members of the School Projects, are invited to return to Birmingham's Library Theatre on Sunday 14th March to join our visiting Italian storytelling friends, for an inspiring storytelling workshop called Many Voices led by Paola Balbi from Rome.

PAOLA BALBI

Paola's workshop will run from 10.30 to 4.30 on Sunday 14th March, including an hour for you to get yourself some lunch. She will cover such aspects of storytelling as non-verbal communication, body language and telling in more than one language. Places are free, but space is limited.

If you belong to a Young Tongues school project or are entering the competition and would like to take up this exciting opportunity to work with Paola, phone Fiona on 01490 430 551 or email info@ysoy.org.uk

You will need your parent / guardian's permission if you are under 18.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED!
